Amended Military Service Act

Ottawa, April 16—Owing to the critical situation which has with some suddenness developed on the western front and which is likely to continue until the autumn, the government of Canada, after the most careful consideration of all the circumstances and possible consequences, has reached the decision that it is not only desirable but absolutely essential that substantial reinforcements be secured for the Canadian expeditionary forces without delay.

In view of the emergency that has arisen it is now recognised that the additional men so urgently needed can not be secured within the time required through the ordinary system of the military service act or of any system of individual selection. The government has therefore decided that the only way in which reinforcements can be secured in time and in sufficient numbers is by taking authority to order out for service all men of certain definite ages who are physically fit and to abolish all exemptions in the case of all men so ordered out.

It is the intention to call out in the first instance unmarried men and widowers without children under the age of 20 and 23, both inclusive. It is believed that these young men can be spared with the least disturbance to agriculture and other essential industries. The calling out of the men of other ages under the proposed order-in-council must necessarily depend upon the exigencies of the war and the need for reinforcement.

In the meantime the Military Service Act will continue in operation as to all men in Class 1, and as regards other classes under the act. The men of 19 will be required to register without delay. Every effort shall be made to speed up the work of the tribunals and appeal courts in dealing with the balance of exemption claims outside, of course, of the men called out under the new order.

In order that the government may have full power to deal with the situation as it may develop from time to time, parliament is asking to approve of the governor-in-council being given the necessary authority to call out the men of any age in any class under the Military Service Act and abolish all exemptions in the case of any class so called.

The order-in-council not only makes all men now 19 years of age subject to the provisions of the Military Service act, but also all other young men as and when they attain 19 years of age.

The order removes the exemption now enjoyed by officers and men who have served in the expeditionary force but who did not proceed further than Great Britain and have since returned to Canada and been discharged. They will be required to serve if physically fit when their class is called.

Certain treaties are now under negotiations with foreign governments under which citizens of such governments residents in Canada may be made liable for Military Service. Where any such treaties are concluded the order-in-council gives the government the power to call out the citizens of such countries for service as members of the Canadian expeditionary force in the same manner as British subjects.

The number of men the government is authorized to raise under the Military Service Act remains at 100,000. Whether or not parliament will be asked to increase the number before the house prorogues depends entirely upon development at the front, and the prospective need for reinforcements. The Minister of Militia is given authority to grant exemption in the case called to young men having relatives at the front. This is absolutely the only recognized ground for exemption, it being considered that in view of the exigencies of the military situation there are no men in Canada between the ages of 20 and 21 who are indispensable.

The following is a copy of the order in council amending the Military Service Act which will be introduced in the Commons on Thursday as a resolution:

Whereas, there is an immediate and urgent need of reinforcements for the Canadian expeditionary forces and the necessity for the reinforcement admits of no delay.

And whereas, it is deemed essential that notwithstanding the exemptions heretofore granted, a substantial number of men should be withdrawn forthwith from civil life for the purpose of serving in a military capacity.

And, whereas, having regard to the number of men immediately required and to the urgency of the demand, time does not permit of examination by exemption tribunals for the value of civil life or the position of the individuals called to duty.

Therefore, his excellency the governor-general-in-council, on the recommendations of the right honorable, the prime minister, and under and by virtue of the powers conferred on the governor-in-council by the War Measures Act, 1914, and otherwise is pleased to make the following regulations which shall come into force as soon as approved by resolution of both houses of parliament and same are hereby made and enacted accordingly.

Regulations:

1. In these regulations (a) "minister" shall mean the minister of militia and defence; (b) "act" shall mean the Military Service Act, 1917.

2. Class 1 under the act shall, in addition to the men included therein as the said act mentioned, include all men who (a) are British subjects; and, (b) are not within the classes of persons described in the exceptions mentioned in the schedule of the act; and (c) have attained the age of 19 years, but were born on or since 13 October 1897; and (d) are unmarried or widowers without children; and, (e) are residents in Canada.

3. Class 2 under the Military Service Act 1917, shall in addition to the men included therein as in the said act mentioned, include all men who (a) are British subjects and (b.) are not within classes of persons described in the exceptions mentioned in the schedule to the said act; and (c) have attained the age of 19 years and were born since Oct. 13 1897, and (d) are married or widowers with children; and (e) are residents in Canada.

4. The words "in any theatre of actual war" in the fifth exception in the schedule to the act shall not be the high seas of Great Britain or Ireland, and the said exception shall be interpreted accordingly.

5. The governor-general-in-council may direct orders to report for duty to issue to men in any class under the act of any named age or ages, or who were born in named years or any named year or part of a year, and any exemption heretofore granted to any man of such named age or year of birth shall cease from and after noon of the day upon which he is ordered so to report, and no claim of exemption by or in respect of any man shall be entertained or considered after the issue to him of such order, provided however, that the minister may grant leave of absence without pay to any man by reason of the death, disablement or service of other members of the same family while on active service in any theatre of the actual war.

6. The age stated in any claim for exemption made by or in behalf of any man or in any other document signed by man shall be conclusive evidence as against him of his age and year of birth.

7. The minister may, from time to time, direct that no orders to report for duty be issued to men who have been examined by military medical boards and placed in such medical categories as are specified in such direction.

8. All men included in class one, by virtue of the provisions of these regulations, shall report to the registrar or deputy registrar under the act as required by proclamation; they shall be subject to military law as in proclamation set forth, but shall in event of their failing to report, be liable to penalties specified in the act and the regulations thereunder.

9. (a) Any man now unmarried, who at any time hereafter attains the age of 19 years and is then a British subject resident in Canada and not within one of the exceptions in the schedule to the act, shall, and (b) and any man who, having attained the age of 19 years, being then a British subject resident as aforesaid, and not within one of the exceptions in the schedule of the act, becomes a widower without children shall, if the class within which he then falls has been called out on active service, forthwith become subject to military law and shall within ten (10) days thereafter report to the registrar under the act for the province or the part of a province in which he resides. He shall be placed on active service as provided by the act, by the regulations thereunder or by these regulations, and shall, until so placed be deemed to be on leave of absence.

10. Where under or pursuant to any treaty or convention with any foreign country provision is now or may hereafter be made that the subjects of such government or the citizens of such country resident in Canada may be made liable by law to military service, such citizens or subjects of such government or country may be called out by proclamation and shall report, be liable to military law and be placed on active service as may be specified in said proclamation or in the act or the regulations thereunder.

EVERY ACRE IN CANADA MUST BE PLANTED

Ottawa, April 18.—The imperative necessity for an increase wheat crop this year to avert famine is the subject of a special message of the Hon. T. A. Cresser, minister of agriculture to the farmers.

The acreage, he says, must be increased, and every field capable of growing wheat must be planted.

The message reads: "Let me again draw the attention of the farmers of Canada to the grave need of planting every acre of land in wheat that is in shape to grow it. The need will be very great. I know from practical experience the difficulties thousands of our farmers are up against, through the trouble they have in getting suitable farm labor.

"There should not be a man idle in Canada today who is physically fit to work. The law against idleness should be enforced, the same as any other law. With such help as is to hand, by better planning and more co-operation between neighbors we must make up the deficiency. The news that comes daily of that awful grim struggle now being fought in France and Flanders brings home to us clearly and unmistakably this fact—that after almost four years of war human liberty is still in the balance. "The call for men is urgent and they must to the full limit of our power be sent. Their places at home must be taken by those who remain. Despite the difficulties, we must produce more food than we have ever done before. Set apart all your land fit for growing crops, and plant as much wheat as you can. Let me add a word about next year. Plan to bring as much land into production as possible and thus increase your acreage for next year. It will be needed then just as much as now.

EMPLOYERS ARE WARNED OF THEIR RESPONSIBILITY

Ottawa, April 18.—In view of the impending call to the colors of all men unmarried and widowers between the ages of 20-35, particular attention is directed to the duty of employers as laid down by the military service regulations. The regulations stipulate that "it shall be the duty" of every employer to make enquiries to see if he has in his employ any man who has failed to respond to the call. An employer is required to answer any questions put to him by his employer for this purpose. The employer is then required to report to the minister, according to the best of his knowledge, information and belief, the names and addresses and whereabouts at the time of all employees in his service called out who have failed to respond. An employer who neglects or refuses to comply with this regulation is liable to a fine for each employee of not more than $100 and not less than $50, or to three months imprisonment, or both fine and imprisonment.

Further every person is liable to a penalty of not less than $50 and not more than $500 who knowingly employs or engages in his service, or continues in his service for a period of seven days any man who belongs to any class or sub-class which has been called out and who has not reported.

ONE BIG GUN SILENCED

With the French Armies April 18.—The new York Times correspondent visited today a battery of heavy artillery whose target was the German guns that are bombarding Paris. The French know to a yard the situation of the latter which are situated on the spurs of low hills on the Laon-La-Fere railroad, a few miles northwest of the town first named.

As early as October French Air men brought word of big gun emplacements in this locality but it was then supposed that they were the positions for cannon to be used against Bois. Three months ago prisoners spoke of the "ein-kolossal-Kanone," which was going to shell Paris.

The officer in charge of the counter-battery operations showed me a map in relief, giving the exact position of the super-cannon. Air photographs of later date showed the effect of the French fire, which has already put one of the monsters out of action, two shells having fallen on the barrel.

It is stated that these guns are ninety six feet long. At the moment of firing other big guns let fly simultaneously, to confuse the French, and a smoke screen is emitted in the vicinity of the pieces from aircraft. Up to yesterday there had been no firing at night, lest flashes show location of the cannon. How necessary this precaution is may be illustrated by my experience last night, when I saw the whole northern sky constantly lit up by the guns on the eighty mile front of the German offensive.

Directly one of the long range guns fires on Paris the counter-battery receives a message and responds immediately. As I approached the counter battery—the Germans had been

OH, SUCH A HEADACHE!

Every now and again don't you get one of those fearful headaches that drive you to do anything to get relief? Remember, it's a mistake to just "smother" the pain without removing the cause. Nearly all headaches have their head-quarters in the stomach, liver or bowels, and the best remedy is Dr. Chamberlain's Tablets, which tone the liver, empty the stomach and cleanse the bowels. This not only cures the headache but prevents its return.

All dealers 25c or by mail from Chamberlain Medicine Co., Toronto 30 shelling it fiercely and the neighborhood was highly dangerous—there was a sudden terrific burst of sound, as if the sky were splitting overhead. For a moment I thought a German shell had landed very close but it was simply one of the French guns.

To a non-professional observer their barrels seem almost vertical. The shells they use are very different from those which fall on Paris, their weight being half a ton. Air photographs show that not only has one German gun been put out of action and that tremendous craters have been made around others, but that one French shell fell plumb on an important main line, which was blocked for a whole day—and that at a time when rapid transport was essential to the Germans.

A French officer admitted the difficulty of obtaining absolute accuracy at a range of ten miles but assured me that it was only a question of time before all three super-cannon were destroyed.

ALLIED STRATEGY IN THE NORTH LIKENED TO VERDUN DEFENCE

London, April 18.—England is passing through the fiercest hour since with outward calm but deep gnawing of heart. There is intense pride shown in the fighting qualities of our individual soldiers. Every day every fresh convoy of wounded brings fresh illustrations of the truth of our company officers with the rank and file fighting more splendidly today than ever before. The nation, however, is greatly perplexed over the strategy of the campaign. The favorite explanation here is that we are repeating upon a large scale tactics employed by the French at Verdun, surrendering each point to the enemy at the highest possible cost and allowing him to exhaust himself by mad rushes at points of importance; then launching our counter-offensive. The real culminating struggle for the coast will come along the great ridge from Kemmel to Cats. Here we have great advantage of position. Kemmel unless turned, commands an enormous area of country.

The nation places confidence in its military leaders but is sorely anxious over the political situation. Parliament grants the government almost all it asks with comparatively little criticism, but once the crisis is passed the cabinet will have to face the fiercest crisis it has ever known—a crisis wholly different from mere party intrigue.

The nation has made up its mind over Ireland. Whatever happens and however logically enforced conscription may be, British public will oppose creating acute Irish strife. This feeling is overwhelming and spontaneous by evident in many quarters. Ireland will be unconquered until home rule is passed. Many Unionists are actively urging the nation to make immediate and generous concessions, trusting the right spirit of the Irish people to meet the advance fittingly.

AT THE PICTURE HOUSES

At the Veteran

In presenting Marie Doro in the photodramatic version of Charles Dickens' famous story, "Oliver Twist," which will be the Paramount attraction at the Veteran Theatre on Thursday, the Jesse L. Lasky Company has utilized its greatest resources, not only in making the story true to detail, but historically accurate.

Charles Dickens is chiefly noted for his wonderful drawing of characters. To secure these characters and present them on the screen was one of the Lasky's most difficult tasks. That Marie Doro was an ideal Oliver is self-evident, as she is not only the character described by Dickens when arrayed in boy's clothes, but was hailed throughout the country as a perfect Oliver when she appeared in the all-star revival of the famous play on the speaking stage a few years ago.

In selecting the characters for the minor parts, Director Young has almost outdone Dickens himself in producing the types of his pen for this production. The story has been given most elaborate attention to detail and the English atmosphere of that period most admirably preserved. The photography is of the usual Lasky excellence.

There was at least one happy day for the children of the New York slum not long ago when the cry went up that the "pitcher" people were coming to take some scenes. Soon there appeared several big motor cars full of a motley array of people, all painted in weird colors. The last car contained a camera and several very earnest looking men who were decked out with grease paint. These were the director and his assistants. From one of the cars Max Murray alighted and began the fun. The scenes were taken for the Famous player production "The Big Sister," in which Miss Murray starred under the direction of John B. O'Brien. It is the Paramount picture at the Veteran Theatre. Friday and Saturday this week.

Pallas Pictures presents Dustin Farnum in the "Parson of Panamint," by Peter B. Kyle. Millions read the wonderful story, published first in the Saturday Evening Post, and on which the Pallas picture production of the same name is based. Dustin Farnum as "The Parson of Panamint," has literally immortalized by his screen characterizations one of the most interesting figures in the history of fiction of the Great West. The story centres in one of the mushroom mining towns of Nevada of forty years ago. The elements of human interest, of history, tragedy and comedy, as brought out in this play, form the foundation of a wonderful story of the west—At the Veteran Theatre next week.

There will be no dance at the Veteran theatre this week as the Lynch orchestra cannot be secured. There will be a dance on the evening of May 3rd, when the above orchestra will be in attendance.

VIVID PICTURE OF / WAR BLIGHT UPON FLANDERS PLAINS

With the Army in France April 18,--- It is difficult for one in the British war zone to adjust himself to the new condition here. It all seems like a horrible dream--this spreading German blight across the cultivated plains of Flanders, with their ancient picturesque villages.

It is but little more than a week since one was free to motor quietly along highways leading through the Merville Baillieu and a score of other nearby places which never lost their charms. These peaceful farm lands lay freshly turned ready for the spring crops. The battle lines were not far to the eastward, but death and destruction

At the Rex

To the Editor Western Globe: When the Veteran Theatre started to feature the Famous Player productions, Messrs. Boode & Johnston, immediately went cancelling their contract with the company as they did not want to appear to be butting in on anything. The Famous Players will not cancel it, however as the following letter will show:

Calgary, April 1918
Messrs Boode & Johnston
Rex Theatre, Lacombe.

We have your letter stating that as another theatre in your city has booked our pictures, you wish your contract with us cancelled. The contract with us is not subject to cancellation, and we will therefore sign your dates in accordance with same and expect you to use these productions.

Yours very truly,
Famous Players Film Service, Ltd.
But the Rex has succeeded in getting a contract with the Triangle people, and the first feature of the leading corporation will be shown on Thursday, (tomorrow) night, at the great Red Cross benefit. Mrs. J. W. Fortune will have charge of the music. The Rex has arranged to get real first rate films for the Triangle people, and for these this has been a time of double return. Some of the peasants indeed clung to their cottages amidst the crashing of shells until British soldiers let them away.

Some have died by their hearths before they could be removed. There were many pitiful cases of homes in which there were bed ridden invalids whom their friends had no means of removing without help from the soldiers. It was only yesterday that a British official photographer, who was recording the history of the war on his films discovered a helpless paralytic lying in a house which had already been partly wrecked by shells. The invalid had no relatives and his friends who had looked after him were dead or cut off from him. So the photographer, with the assistance of a soldier carried the man to safety, though the road lay through what might have been a horrible death at any moment. This is one incident among many.

diers in their efforts to block further inroads of the Hun.

A Living Hell
By night the skyline is sometimes a lurid blaze as consuming flames leap from a hundred homes and great cannon vomit volcanic fire. It is a living hell. It is a part of heretofore untouched Flanders goes the way of the devastated regions of the Somme and to the gentle peasant folk stand and look or wander on. As they go they cannot comprehend it. Its awfulness has numbed their brains.

Pathetic Family Group
The correspondent found a little family group crouching beneath some British hawthorn leaves in reserve. Their eyes were fastened upon the mounting columns of smoke which rose from the village whence they came. There were no tears and no words but the expression on their faces was like that of one just condemned to die.

Why they stopped beside the great guns was unexplained. Possibly it was because it gave them a sense of protection from dangers out beyond. Many of the refugees know only in a general way whether they go; they are following the lead of military guides like sheep fleeing from a storm. A few cherished belongings are stored away with them, and they cling to these desperately as their only remaining possessions.

Hundreds of Flemish homes have been shorn of their protectors who have been called to the front. Many of these this has been a time of double return. Some of the peasants indeed clung to their cottages amidst the crashing of shells until British soldiers let them away.

Both Theatres Now Boost Red Cross

Following up her good work for the Red Cross at the Rex Theatre, Mrs. Graham has accepted the offer of the new management of the Comet to use the theatre on Sunday evenings, and will give a series of Sunday evening concerts in aid of the Society. Commencing Sunday evening, May 5, Full particulars next week. By her work for the cause at the Rex, Mrs. Graham has turned in to the Red Cross several hundred dollars and her efforts at the Comet should be equally profitable. With both theatres giving benefits, the Society's funds should be greatly increased this year.

Sensational Red Cross Feature

The Rex has been successful in securing a contract with the Triangle Film Company, the greatest film makers on the continent, and the first of the series will be shown on Thursday evening—Red Cross night. The play comes direct from Calgary, where it appears Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday this week at the Liberty Theatre. The name of the special is "Paddy O'Hara."

A gay, reckless Irishman, war correspondent for a big London Newspaper is the part played by William Desmond in "Paddy O'Hara," a Triangle play produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince. With irresistible Irish wit and pugnacity he plunges into the Balkan affairs and proceeds to straighten them out to suit himself and a certain princess Mary Melvor who is compelled to take flight from her father's castle to escape the attacking vandals.

Sure, you can go on my pass part as Mrs. Paddy O'Hara suggests the blithe Irishman to the haughty little princess. The chaplain of the house insists that a marriage shall first be performed, and the princess consents on the condition that she be divorced from the vixen directly after reaching safety. Paddy promises to observe the contract. But promises count for little in love and war, and the little princess is the one who suggests that the clause be struck from the marital treaty.

The grandeur of mountains and sweeping valleys distinguishes the setting of the production. Mrs. Fortune will have charge of the music, and the proceeds are in aid of the Red Cross.

ST. JULIEN

Of all the battles in the present war none comes nearer home to the Western Canadian than that of St. Julien. None has shown the world sterner quick acting brain and about heart more clearly that that historic event. It was the first really direct indication to the people of Canada that our own nation was at war. It was a revelation to us and an intimation of the real meaning of the terrible conflict.

And the Canadians stood the test in that terrible trial. It was a test that would and did try the hardest. But the Canadians did not yield. Many men made the supreme sacrifice on that eventful day. Others were taken from the field of battle hopelessly maimed and have never raised a gun since. Many others since that time have faced the foe. Yet very few have answered the call on that eventful morning are still in arms now. It was a gallant day for Canada. The name of St. Julien will never be forgotten and will always find an honored place in our glorious annals.

THE REGISTRATION OF STEAM BOILERS

Owners of steam boilers in the province of Alberta should make themselves familiar with the new provisions of the Act Respecting Steam Boilers passed at the last session of the Provincial legislature.

The provisions of the act effect all owners of portable or semi-portable boilers. All steam boilers must be registered with the Department of Public Works to order that the license may be secured to operate them. A numbered license plate is issued which must be fixed on the boiler. The cost of the license is $7.50. It runs for the balance of the year. A penalty in the form of a fine up to $50.00 is imposed for the operating of boilers for which licenses have not been secured.

Provision is made for the regular annual inspection of boilers as well as special inspection when necessary and for the issue of inspection certificates. Boilers may not be operated until inspected. There is no charge for the inspection of registered boilers.

Vast Issues Depend Upon the Welfare of Our Men!

Cheer Up and Thank God for the Y.M.C.A.

TRY to picture yourself in the muddy cold trenches after exciting days and long nights of mortal danger and intense nervous strain. Rushing "whiz-bangs" and screaming "coal boxes" are no respecters of persons. You are hit! But despite shock and pain you still can face the long weary trudge back to dressing station. Weary, overwrought and depressed, you are prey to wild imaginings of that other coming ordeal with the surgeon. There are other "walking wounded," too! You must wait, wait, wait. And then—

Up comes a cheery Y.M.C.A. man, the ever-present "big brother," to the soldier, with words of manly encouragement. Close beside the dressing station the good generous folks at home have enabled him to set up a canteen. He hands you biscuits, and chocolate or coffee.

Red Triangle Fund

$2,250,000, May 7, 8, 9

Canada-Wide Appeal

"In thousands of cases," writes an officer, "it was that first hot cup of coffee that dragged the man back to life and sanity."

The tremendous helpfulness of the Y.M.C.A. as an aid to the "morale," or fighting spirit, of the soldiers is everywhere praised. No wonder the Germans make every effort to smash the Y.M.C.A. huts out of existence.

The Y.M.C.A. is everywhere. You first met the helpful, manly Y.M.C.A. worker in camp, then on train and boat, at camp in England and in France, close to the firing line. Often he risks his life to reach you in the trenches. He has won the warmest praise from military authorities, statesmen—the King! Have you a precious boy at the front? You cannot be "over there" to guide him away from fierce temptations of camp and city. You cannot comfort him in his supreme hour of trial. Your parcels to him are necessarily few. But the Y.M.C.A., thank God, is "over there," going where you cannot go—doing the very things you long to do—doing it for you and for him.

Will you help? This vast organization of helpfulness needs at least $2,250,000 from Canada for 1918. For your boy's sake be GENEROUS!

TRACTORS MUST BE LICENSED

According to the new section to the Steam Boiler's Act that is now before the Legislature, all tractors and portable engines must be licensed. They must all register, be licensed and given number plates the same as automobiles. In other years they have had to pay for their inspection, but this year, according to new legislation, they will get their inspection free, but will have to take out a license.

The new act also provides for the inspection of air tanks carrying a pressure of more than 75 pounds to the square inch in garages etc. They will all have to be equipped with safety appliances etc. to prevent all likelihood of explosions.

IMMIGRATION TO ALBERTA

WAS 12,000 IN 1917

Immigration to Alberta by ocean and United States ports amounted to 12,000 during the past year, according to the report of Hon. Duncan Marshall to the legislature Friday night. Three thousand nine hundred and seventy-nine homesteads were taken up during the year and 272 pre-emptions.

From the report of the Dairy Commissioner Marker, which is included, it is noted that the number of milch cows has increased during the year by 50,000 head, or has nearly doubled in 3 years, in spite of the scarcity of labor. Over 95 per cent. of the cream supplied to the creameries in 1917 has been bought strictly on grade. In 1917, 56 per cent. of the butter produced in the creameries graded specials and 36 per cent. firsts. The total number of creameries operating in the province in 1917 was 66 and there were 20 cheese factories. The interest in the manufacture of cheese is reported as increasing rapidly.

Dr. Talbot reported that among the diseases that are giving undue trouble among the cattle the chief were black-leg and contagious abortion. Sheep and swine are reported as rather free from trouble. There is no scab in the province. Hog cholera is handled by the Dominion department.

Among horses there is some typhoid swamp fever and infectious abortion. The provincial veterinarian states that is more trouble from poisoning than from any other, the special plants mentioned being water hemlock, larkspur and death camas.

R. N. W. M. P. MAY GO OVERSEAS

Regina, Sask. April 12.—That the members of the R.N.W.M.P. will be given the opportunity to volunteer for overseas service, is the information coming from Ottawa today. Headquarters of the force declined to discuss the matter, but it is an open secret among the members of the force, who have all been given the opportunity to enlist, and who to a man have offered their services, even inspectors and other officers with long service records expressed a willingness to revert to troopers so long as they can get into the overseas cavalry regiment. As soon as the news leaked out the citizens got to work in an endeavor to preserve the identity of the famous Riders of the Plains, and the board of trade executive held an emergency meeting in order to draft a telegram to the government, asking that the identity of the force be preserved; that the present police headquarters be given authority to raise a cavalry regiment officered by their own men and with headquarters here, which for so many years has been the centre of the work of the Royal North West Mounted Police.

No official word has been received at the Edmonton barracks respecting the opportunity of the members of the force to enlist for overseas service, but it is generally understood that such is the case. A large number of them here will jump at the chance to join up for active service.

LEGISLATURES MESSAGE TO THE SOLDIERS OF ALBERTA

The following message has been sent the soldiers from Alberta fighting on the west front by Hon. C. W. Fisher the speaker of the Legislative Assembly.

"The members of the Alberta Legislature in session assembled deem it an honor to place on record their heartfelt appreciation of the valorous deeds of Alberta's sons which have placed Canada high on the scroll of national fame and prove conclusively that the Western province produce men worthy of the best traditions of the British Empire. They in dealing with war problems at home, have passed legislation in favor of providing as far as possible for the relief and comfort of your dependents, and rest confident that in the final issue now pending, Alberta's soldiers will show the same unconquerable spirit that has planted the Empire on the plains of the West and that has so often won the victory on the field of battle for freedom and public right."

Bad Lands Man Has Job for Kaiser

Dear Editor:

We got some pretty smart fellows round Bentley what does it all and they says as how what they don't know you does, so I got a letter I want sent to the Kaiser, and I send it to you so you can get the censure to send it on to him. Yours to command.

Bill Baillie

To Mr. William Hohenzollern, Esq.

Kaiser of the Huns,

Berlin, Germany.

Sir:—Please sir I want to say as how I feel real sorry for you. I ain't no great scholar and don't read much, it bein' kind of painful, so I gets most of my news to the grocery store of an evening on a cracker box. Say mister, you should just be to our store of a Saturday evening, and hear our boys talk. We got a real smart bunch of talkers, and some real smart poker players too, I don't know what they are smartest at, talkin' or playin' poker. But say, Mr. Kaiser, you should hear Jimmy, he's great to talk while you agree with him, but he can't stand no argue. O Lordy, if anyone don't agree with Jimmy he flies right off the handle and begins to howl like a coyote. Jack Dameron says he acts just like they tell me you call your parliament. Well sir, we all expected to see Jimmy go to the old country before Christmas to organize the soldiers. About election time he was all worked up about the thousands of our men he said his friend Bourassa told him was loafing in England. Jimmy he said if we had them organized we wouldn't need to conscript no Canadian slackers. But since election Jimmy seems to have lost all interest in them cronies. Then we have a pile of them foreign Scandinavians what calls them selves Socialists, they all ones what had ought to be did, and every mother's son ones it had ought to be did another way from what any other one says it should. If you wants to hear some talk and chatter and nothing to it but wind, you get half a dozen socialists arguing what should be did to make the rich man work and the poor man set still. Horse Power would like to say a plenty but it takes him so long the other fellows get jaded and goes ahead of him. He oughta been called Gasoline for he goes by puffs just like a gasoline engine. The preacher told me you got social democrats to your country. We got plain democrats here and I got one with two seats and it can hold six at a pinch. Well, say, Mr. Kaiser, it seems as if I never was going to get to what I started to tell you. You see it was like this. Saturday when I was to the grocery store setting on my cracker box John Blash he says says he "Well fellows, I guess the Kaiser's going to lose his job this spring." And Bert Thorp he answers and says he "You bet you he won't have no place in the sun this summer." Well Mr. that's when I felt sorry for you. Say it must be he to be where you can't get no sun. I been born and lived all my life in God's out of doors and I tell you I wouldn't stand it to be where there was no sun. Now Mr. Man this here is Sunny Alberta, thou to be honest with you we have had 4 or 5 years with a duc of a lot of rain and darn little Sunny Alberta about it, but last year was better, and I think this year is gon to be better again. Now sir, I am a man what always like to help another, especially if it ain't gon to cost me nothing so now what I got to tell you is this. If you lost your job and wants another with lots of sun in it you just like right home to me. We is early fakers in the summer, and we get up at 4:30 off a morning and quit work at 9 of an evening and as I got no more man the summer you can get all that time in the sun as I got ninety acres hay and the same grain to put up. So Mr. Kaiser if you wants this chance to get in the sun just drop me a line and make a date, but say Bill don't make no josh dates like Hintingberg when he told the Hun he'd be in Paris First of April. Now Mr., to get to my place you just take the C.P.R. to Lacombe and then get on the Bentley Dinky. When you gets to Bentley just ast anyone how to get to Bill Baillie and they'll tell you, for they all know my ranch.

Your Truly,
BILL BAILLIE.

GLEN HEWIT NOTES
We overheard the following conversation a few days ago.
"Say, how are you coming along farming?"
"Oh, not so bad, got twenty acres sowed, how are you getting along?"
"Haven't done much yet, been burning off. Got a fire over my place this spring that done more good in one day than I could do in three months."
"Say its a corker about them guys sleeping by the stack till their loads caught fire."
"Yes, and Hardy is catching the dinkens for it. Gosh if I could get money for sleeping I would never work. Say, isn't it rotten; but it is a short road that has no turns in it."

NO ALCOHOL IN GIN PILLS

Many have wondered how the famous old household remedy, Gin Pills, derived its name, since obviously there could be no spirit contained in pill form. The origin of Gin Pills can be traced to Gin, which has for a great many years been recognized for its medicinal qualities, particularly its beneficial effects on kidney complaints.

But in the first place there are many who have conscientious objections to taking alcohol, even as a medicine. Secondly, the curative agent of Gin operates in spite of the alcohol, not because the alcohol is a help to the cure.

This active agent, separated from the alcohol, was then combined with other diuretics and given the name of Gin Pills, for which a demand has grown greater than for any other medicine in Canada. Gin Pills have a wonderful record of success and anyone applying to the manufacturers can obtain copies of many of the testimonials received.

Gin Pills are sold by all dealers everywhere on a strict guarantee of satisfaction or your money back. They are 50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50. A free sample can be obtained by writing to the National Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to the U.S. address, Na-Dru-Co. Inc., 123 Main St., Buffalo, N.Y.
